ANNIHILATE BUCKET SHOP

That is Said to be the Present Aim of the Government

Boston, April 2.—Attorney-General Wickersham, aided by the secret service corps of the treasury department, today began prosecutions in this and other large cities throughout the country to wipe the bucket shops out of existence.

It is planned by the department of justice to make a clean sweep, and in addition to Boston, New York, Jersey City, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Chicago and St. Louis are included in the list of cities to be cleaned up.

The men listed for indictment in these cities include several millionaires, a group of well known bookmakers and other financiers who have been doing a profitable business through the operation of bucket shops.

Not fewer than thirty arrests are planned. So complete are the arrangements that it is not believed a single man who is wanted will be able to elude the marshals armed with warrants.

At an agreed signal notice to strike will be flashed from the offices of the attorney general in Washington, and simultaneously the marshals will descend upon the bucketshop men in all of the cities in which cases have been worked up.

"MR. TRAIN"

How the Minnesota Congressman on Friday Made His Acquaintance

Washington, April 2.—Representative "Jim" Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of the appropriations committee, fearfully stalked into his office on Friday during a lull in the house proceedings. He picked up a memorandum on his desk. It read: "Call up Mr. Train, Main 7380." Mr. Tawney hurried to the booth telephone and called the number. "Mr. Train?" he asked. "Did you?" asked a voice at the other end. "Did I what?" asked Tawney impatiently. "Who is this?" "Union Station." Then a light broke upon the "watch dog" of the treasury and he slammed the transmitter back on the hook and sat down abruptly.

NEW BARGE

Addition to Fleet of Piscataqua Navigation Co.

Portland, Me., April 2.—Last December the Portland Shipbuilding company whose plant is commonly known as the marine railway, received a contract from the Piscataqua Navigation of Portsmouth, N. H., to build them a barge. The work was started in that month and has been steadily going forward until today the barge is completed and will be launched next week.

This is the first craft built at the plant for a year, hundreds of small motor launches and other craft have been built during the past year at the railway, but this is the largest for this year.

The barge is 105 feet over all and 28 feet beam, with a seven foot, five inch moulded depth. She is very light draft and will not draw more than three or four feet. Her capacity is approximately between 300 and 400 tons.

The barge will be used as a freighter carrying lumber and various kinds of freight between Boston and other ports. She is painted black. She has no masts and is not a handsome craft because she was not built for style; she is said to be very seaworthy and is the newest type in the barge construction in these parts. With the facilities at the company's plant almost any kind of craft can be built. Among the newest buildings is the machine shop on the end of their piers in which is done every kind of iron work used about a vessel.

ROOSEVELT IN ITALY

Naples, April 2.—An immense crowd, one of the greatest ever collected in Naples, was up at daybreak today to greet Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. Thousands of Americans were among those in the throng. They included hundreds of tourists from the excursion ships Cincinnati and Grosser Kurfurst.

Although no official reception had been arranged by the Italian authorities in honor of Colonel Roosevelt, the mayor of Naples delegated Alderman Delco to present to him the welcome of the city. Extensive police precautions were taken to the end that Colonel Roosevelt and his family would not be inconvenienced by his enthusiastic well-wishers or others.

No fixed programme has been made for Colonel Roosevelt's stay in Naples. It is probable he will hold an informal reception at the Excelsior Hotel, where a suite of rooms has been engaged for him and his family, and that he will visit the studio of Sculptor Chiaromonte to inspect a bust of the late Marion Crawford, the novelist, which Mrs. Crawford intends to present to him.

Dr. Walter Wever, the German consul-general here, expects to call on Colonel Roosevelt to pay his personal respects. He denies a report that he will transmit a special message from Emperor William. Dr. Wever was once the German consul at Chicago and is personally acquainted with Col. Roosevelt.

South Eliot Men Going on a Job at Lake Winnepesaukee

Eliot, Me., April 2. Henry Park Spinney and Charles Cole will start for Moultonboro, N. H., next Monday morning. They will spend several weeks there, working as caulkers on new vessels and repair jobs on the shore of Lake Winnepesaukee.

John Hillhouse is the latest addition to the ranks of the Eliot automobilists. He started to drive home from Portsmouth with the chug carriage on Friday afternoon, and the thing balked on the new road about three-quarters of a mile from the destination. It went the rest of the way by horse power. The new owner is an expert mechanical engineer, and his acquaintances are making the best of this opportunity to laugh at him, for they know that things will be different after he has given the apparatus his personal attention.

Secretary Alfred O. Booth of the Portsmouth Young Men's Christian association will occupy the pulpit at the Congregational church on Sunday.

Mrs. Daniel Onstott will deliver the address from the South Eliot Methodist pulpit on Sunday afternoon.

There is an important auction of real estate in the upper part of the town today.

The sub-committee, chosen by the town's centennial committee to prepare a list of nominations for auxiliary committees will meet this evening with Dr. John L. M. Willis.

Rope have arrived here to be at the welcome of Colonel Roosevelt. A majority of the writers expect to stay with him until he sails for the United States, which is evidence of the remarkable interest the press is taking in the American ex-president's tour of Europe.

WAR CLOUD OVER
SOUTH AMERICA

Bogota, Colombia, April 2.—A mob attacked and forced an entrance into the Peruvian Legation on Thursday, but the police arrived and averted damage.

The rioting was provoked by posted copies of a telegram addressed to Colombia by President Alfaro of Ecuador expressing hope that Ecuadorians and Colombians would stand together in defense of the frontiers of the "Old Fatherland."

"Old Fatherland" was the original Republic of Colombia founded by Simon Bolivar, uniting Quito, New Granada and Venezuela when they threw off the Spanish yoke. The union was subsequently dissolved by war, Ecuador being constituted an independent republic in 1830.

Ecuador has a boundary dispute with Peru, which has been referred to the King of Spain for settlement, and at the same time Peru has a quarrel with Chile over the possession of two provinces on the northern boundary of Chile. It is hoped to unite Chile, Ecuador and Colombia against Peru.

The seniors have been fortunate in securing passes both to the state and the house of representatives.

Grogan gave it to Andrews to redeem the property for him. Theatrical Topics

Adjectives Failed

When Creator's band was in Boston last year, the Boston Record published the following criticism:

"Adjectives failed the brilliant audience which assembled in Symphony hall last evening for Creator's first concert, when it attempted to describe its impressions. No band artist who has ever visited Boston has created such a furor as has this young Italian. His control over his players is as wonderful as it is almost hypnotic, and, judging from the storm of applause and the repeated recalls which greeted every number, his control over his audience was no whit less remarkable. What chiefly arrests attention at a first hearing is Creator's wonderful vigor and variety of gesture, combining as it does the methods of the orchestra leader and the bandmaster. His players became a band or a symphony orchestra, as he willed and in both roles he was equally successful. There was a crowded house. The scene which followed the last number, which was a grand selection from Carmen, was a typical first night one, and enthusiastic in the extreme. The great audience rose to its feet and amid cheers and tumultuous applause, for the fourth and sixth time and yet again called the leader back."

This same band and leader will be at Music Hall, for one appearance, next Wednesday afternoon.

Raymond Hitchcock a Big Success

Playing in "The Man Who Owns Broadway," at the Tremont Theatre, Boston.

The advent of Easter-tide at the Tremont Theatre, Boston, finds Raymond Hitchcock in the fifth big week of his success in Geo. M. Cohan's "The Man Who Owns Broadway." As a play built purely for laugh producing properties Cohan has hit the nail square on the head, and with Mr. Hitchcock's clever work as an added and most important factor, it revolves itself into a veritable musical comedy knockout.

There is no getting around the fact that young Mr. Cohan knows how to construct musical plays that appeal keenly to the theatre goer of today. He has that happy gift of being able to harness up witty lines and bright lyrics and driving them to an accompaniment of melody that suits his legion of admirers to a "T. Y. Tee" and "The Man Who Owns Broadway" is one of the best examples of this assertion.

Raymond Hitchcock, always a strong favorite in Boston, is entertaining his legion of old friends and adding to the list by hundreds of each successive presentation of this latest Cohan offering which was written expressly for the "fore-lost" comedian and he is ably assisted and abetted by a company of artists whose individual and collective work add not a little to the joy of witnessing a performance of "The Man Who Owns Broadway" with its accompaniment of terse witty lines and fascinating melodies.

Tremont audiences seem never to tire of Mr. Hitchcock's scorchingly funny certain speech, anent the discovery of the North Pole. It invariably arouses gales of laughter and as delivered in Mr. Hitchcock's unique way is a veritable classic.

Footlight Flashes

Before he returns to England for his summer rest Forbes Robertson will play "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" for a short while in Canada at the invitation of Earl Grey, the governor general. He will act in Montreal during the week of April 11 and will visit other Canadian cities until May 6, except that one week of the time will be divided between Rochester and Buffalo, N. Y. He will sail for England May 11.

Fifty years ago on May 2, Prof. William S. Hutchings, "the grand old man of Austin & Stone's," entered the show business with Barnum at the old Ann street museum in New York. On the anniversary day it is planned to hold a reception in the professor's honor.

George Nash is one of the actors who has dropped a middle name as he climbed higher on the theatrical ladder, as it came easier to use the shorter expression when he was featured in productions like "The Hallowed Men" or "The Witching Hour." Similarly, William Hodge dropped his middle initial T. when he became the star in "The Man From Home."

Rostand's "Chantecler" is to go to London in June. It is not yet certain that Jean Coquelin will be able to go with it as the dog Patou, but Chantecler himself will be played, as in Paris, by L. Cultry, and Miss Simone will be the fascinating representation of the hen herself.

News has been received of the arrival in Berlin of Randolph Hartley, the English actor of "The American" which will be produced at the Berlin Royal opera house April 17. The music was composed by Arthur

F. No. 1, brother of the last English actor. The opera was accepted over a year ago by the management of the Kaiser's Theatre. One American will be in the cast. He is Patnam Griswold, who will sing the bass role of the sun god.

The chorus men in the Man Who Owns Broadway company have organized a baseball team and expect to challenge all rival theatrical organizations.

Miss Alice Dovey, the tiny prima donna who plays Lew Fields' daughter "Old Dutch" was born in Plattsmouth, Neb., about 20 years ago and when a child of 8 she and her sister used to play the small towns of Nebraska, Iowa, and Kansas in "Romeo and Juliet," "Hamlet," and "Twelfth Night." They were known as the "Baby Dovey Sisters" and in "Romeo and Juliet" Alice was Romeo and Ethel Juliet. They enjoyed great popularity and used to play to as much as $40 gross in the town hall at Oelwein Junction.

Edmond Rostand's name is composed of 13 letters. When he was called among the immortals he became the 13th occupant of the 13th fauteuil. E. P. Roe's novel, "He Fell in Love With His Wife," has been dramatized by Edith Ellis and will be produced next season under the direction of Gustave Bolthner and Robert Campbell.

Carroll McCormack is to be the leading woman of the Taliaferro Stock Company in Richmond this spring.

Lillian Shaw has received an offer from Oswald Stoll to go to London for a summer run at the Coliseum.

"The Battle," in which Wilton Mackay, brother of James and Helen Mackay, was starring, closed its season March 26 in Cleveland.

Forbes Robertson will end his season in New York in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" April 9. He will then make a short tour of Canada.

It is said that Liebler and Co., will spend $100,000 on Mascagni's new opera, "Ysobel," before its actual production, Bessie Abbott will be starred in the opera.

"Blinky, the Jail Bird," a one-act farce by Edward Corbett, is in active rehearsal for early vaudeville presentation, with Joe Edwards in the title role.

Although she has definitely given up the comic opera stage, Miss Mary Tempest has by no means given up her music, and devotes several hours each day to vocal practice.

Franklin Ritchie, who has just closed an engagement with the "Israel" company, has been engaged for the principal role in "The Vacuum," the one-act play by Preston Gibson.

Henry Miller will not appear in repertoire, as he first intended, but under the management of Klum and Erlanger will make a tour to the Pacific coast in "Her Husband's Wife."

Richard Bennett, Maude Adams' leading man, will play a special stock company engagement in Los Angeles after "What Every Woman Knows" closes its season in June.

MAY SHATTER REPUTATIONS

Plan to Probe Fire Insurance in New York

RESOLUTION OF McINERNEY

It is Approved by Assembly Ways and Means Committee and Promises Inquiry Which Will Take Rank With Investigation of 1905 Which Landed Hughes in Governor's Chair—Endorsed by State's Chief Executive Albany, April 2.—Repetition of the life insurance inquiry of a few years ago, by which Charles E. Hughes became sufficiently famous to be elected governor of New York, is now practically assured in a sweeping investigation of the fire insurance business.

Recent developments have indicated to some statement here that just as flagrant corruption exists in the fire business as in the life end of the insurance and the proposed probe is expected to shatter just as many and big reputations as fell in the Hughes investigation.

The sweeping investigation of the affairs of the fire insurance companies of the state by a legislative committee is practically assured by the action of the ways and means committee of the assembly.

This important committee reported favorably upon Assemblyman McInerney's resolution, calling for the appointment of a committee of five assemblymen and three senators to conduct an inquiry into fire insurance matters along the same lines followed in the life insurance investigation of five years ago.

The resolution will now go to the assembly, where it is practically assured of passage. From there it will go to the senate, and the prediction is made by Republicans that it will pass, and that the latter part of May will see the beginning of an inquiry which will take rank with the Hughes investigation of 1905.

It is provided in the resolution that the hearings must be held between legislative sessions outside of Albany. It is regarded as likely that they will be held in New York city. An appropriation of $25,000 is provided for, but members of the ways and means committee say that the committee, if it is named, will not be charged for funds.

While Governor Hughes knew nothing concerning the McInerney resolution before it was presented in the assembly, it is the general belief in Albany that he is in sympathy with it and desires to see a full disclosure of the transactions of the fire insurance companies, with particular reference to their legislative connections.

The committee will have all the authority of a court. It will be able to subpoena and have produced bank accounts and other records which have not been accessible to Superintendent Hibbick and will be in a position to lay bare all the dealings of Buckley and others, who have already made disclosures in the present inquiry in New York city.

GOES SIXTY-SIX MILES

Miss Sears Then Collapses and Loses Her Wager of $200

San Francisco, April 2.—Ellenor A. Sears' endowment of health and beauty, re-enforced with plenty of pluck and grit, failed to enable the Boston heiress to win her wager of $200 with Miss Jennie Crocker and Mrs. Walter Martin that she could walk from Burlingame to Delmonico, a distance of 108 miles, in fifty-five hours. The society girl's boots hit the hard, high road bravely for the distance of sixty-six miles, and then she collapsed.

Her walk of sixty-six miles in 20 hours 15 minutes is regarded as an athletic achievement at that, and there are few around here who care to dispute the eastern girl's right to call the men of Newport "sissies."

A PASTOR'S PROPHECY

Jerusalem the World's Capital and Jews the Leading People

Chicago, April 2.—According to Rev. James M. Gray, dean of the Moody Institute, who is to give a series of prophetic lectures before the union Bible class, all the governments of Europe are to be overthrown.

The kingdom of Christ is to be established on earth, Jerusalem is to be the world's capital and the Jews are to become the world's leading people. Gray's lectures will be based upon the book of Revelations.

Minister's Wife Gets Divorce
Salem, Mass., April 2.—Sara E. A. Puffer, wife of Rev. Charles H. Puffer, pastor of the Universalist church in Salem, was granted a divorce on the ground of desertion by Judge Raymond. Alimony in the sum of $500 was awarded her.

Little Fellow Drowned
Warwick, R. I., April 2.—While trying to rescue his cap, which had fallen into the Pawtuxet river at Centerville, Felix Plank, 5 years old, lost his balance and fell in himself and was drowned.

GLOVER FEARED HIS WIFE

Detective Gives Sensational Testimony in the Will Contest

Cambridge, Mass., April 2.—The contestants of the Glover will played their trump card, apparently, when they produced Richard J. Blackmore, a private detective, who testified that a year ago this month Clarence F. Glover told him he had got into trouble with his wife over his attention to a servant girl and that it was "state prison for him, a bullet, or sign away his rights."

In the following November, Blackmore swore, Glover met him again and said that he wanted him to get busy, as he had to sign a will, and that he wanted the detective to "get something" on his wife, who was "a sport," to offset what she had on him. The detective was to go to work, he said, on Monday, Nov. 22. Glover was murdered on Saturday evening, Nov. 20.

As the contestants announced that all of their testimony bearing on undue influence in the making of the will was in, court adjourned until Tuesday.

CAR STRIKE CONTINUES

Attempts by Labor Leaders to Reach a Settlement Again Fail

Philadelphia, April 2.—Apparently having failed to settle the car strike in this city, John Mitchell, accompanied by Denis Hayes, fourth vice president of the American Federation of Labor, have gone to New York.

It is understood the leaders of the car strike insist that the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company restore the strikers to their old runs and, while the company is willing to re-employ all of the strikers, it is known it will not displace men employed since the beginning of the strike in favor of any of the old employees.

YOUNG KNOX MAKING WAY IN THE WORLD

Son of Secretary of State Wins Promotion

Detroit, April 2.—Having demonstrated his ability in knowledge of automobiles, Philander C. Knox, Jr., son of the secretary of state, has gone to work in this city in the factory of the automobile company for whom he worked in Providence.

Young Knox arrived in this city from Providence accompanied by his wife. It was at first reported after the young couple left Providence that the secretary of state had forgiven his son for having eloped and married Miss Bolles, but this is denied.

The young man is an expert in constructive work and his coming to the factory here is a promotion for him.

TO PUNISH FARO MEN

Efforts Toward Bringing Them to Trial in New York

Boston, April 2.—At a conference between United States District Attorney French of this city and United States District Attorney Wise of New York, which was held yesterday in New York, it is said that a plan was arranged whereby the faro bank swindlers that defaced George W. Coleman will be prosecuted in New York, as the crime was committed in that city.

It has been pointed out that the New York penal code is very clear in the case of such a swindle as Coleman charges he was a victim of, and that Bank Receiver Bates of the Cambridge National City bank could proceed criminally against the faro men and also institute suits for the recovery of the money.

JOKERS IN THE TARIFF

Grocer Says They Increased Price of Macaroni and Olive Oil

Washington, April 2.—A member of the firm of S. S. Pierce & Co., wholesale grocers of Boston, testified before the senate committee on the high cost of living that a "joker" in the tariff bill had increased the cost of macaroni 1/2 a cent a pound.

This "joker" was not in the tariff on macaroni, but in the paper schedule, which so increased the price of the paper in which macaroni was wrapped that it caused an advance of 1/2 a cent a pound of the product. He also said the tariff on tin cans had increased olive oil 10 cents a gallon.

Women in Strike Riot

Louisville, April 2.—Rioting broke out in the strike against the American Tobacco company here. Six hundred men, women and girl stemmers who were seeking a wage increase attempted to start a stampede in the factory, but were driven back by the police. Several women were hurt by blows of clubs. There are now about 2500 on strike.

To Set Bloodhounds on Trail

Springfield, Mass., April 2.—Two bloodhounds from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., have been sent to this city at the request of the local police to assist in the search for the desperado who killed Miss Martha G. Blackstone and seriously wounded Miss Harriet Dow.

NECESSITIES' HIGHER COST

Explained by Men Supposed to Be Posted

BOOST IN PRICE OF BEEF

Armours' Manager Places It on Shoulders of Retailers—Shoe Machine Trust and Average Workman Responsible For Increased Price of Footwear—Testimony Given in regard to Sugar, Milk and Coal

Roston, April 2.—The blame for the high price of beef was laid squarely upon the shoulders of the retail dealers by A. H. Van Pelt, New England and Boston manager for the Armours, who appeared before the commission appointed by Governor Draper to find out the reasons for the increased cost of living.

Dwight P. Thomas, head of the Reverse sugar refinery, declared that the sugar trust held down the price of sugar. He said that the tariff of 1.63 1/2 makes the price of sugar from 1 to 2 cents higher than it would otherwise be. The only people who benefit from the tariff are the consumers of beet sugar.

William A. Graustein, president of the Boston Dairy company, ascribed the high cost of milk to the number of cattle destroyed in Massachusetts because of the boards of health, the doctors, the magazine writers and scientists possessed of an idea of purifying milk. Thousands of cattle, he said, have been killed and not replaced.

"The retailer fixes the price of beef he gets according to competition," said Van Pelt. "There is no existing agreement between the house of Armour and the retail trade. The weather has a good deal to do with the market."

"There has been a great deal of agitation as to the price of meat and the cost of living that seems to me unwarranted. What used to be luxuries are now necessities. The laboring classes are asking for better cuts than they did a few years ago. There are less cattle in sight than there were a year ago."

"There isn't a retailer who cannot buy with perfect freedom from any packer. The matter of putting up the price 75 percent one one cut and 20 percent on another wholly refers to the retailer."

"There is no fixed value on beef. We receive from Chicago the price they expect to get for the beef. They ship by the carcass and our branch houses sell that beef on commission. It is not a minimum price because it happens sometimes that we have to sell it at a little under the price given us."

Charles H. Jones of the Commonwealth Shoe and Leather company said: "The shoe machinery trust is practically equal partners with us in our business. We have to pay the company in the way of royalties as much as we make ourselves on our shoes."

"We are face to face with the problem of holding our own. In the past because of the skill of the American workman and his fertility of invention we have been able to keep ahead of other countries in the production of shoes at low cost."

"Nowadays, with American inventive ability stifled by the trust and with machines of equal type the 'world over, the competition will reach us.'"

George E. Keith, the Brockton shoe manufacturer, had this to say: "In my factory the average workman expects to do about so much and no more. I have been told by my foremen that there are workmen who would like to do more if they were allowed to, but if a workman does more he is called down by his fellow workmen."

The situation regarding the price of coal was thus explained by Edward Hamilton of the Metropolitan Coal company: "There has been no agreement among coal dealers to raise the price of coal. There has been an increase of labor of from 40 to 50 percent. One great trouble is that the poor insist upon buying their coal in such small amounts that it costs them 30, 40 to 50 percent more."

Value of Fire Drill Demonstrated
Wakefield, Mass., April 2.—The Hamilton school, containing some 300 children, was emptied in less than one minute from the time smoke was noticed coming through the ventilators. A teacher sent in the fire drill alarm after which she notified the fire department, which quickly extinguished a slight blaze in a pile of rubbish in the basement.

Drop in English Birth Rate
London, April 2.—England's birth rate last year was the lowest on record—25.58 per thousand of population. This is nearly 2.0 below the rate for 1908, which showed a slight increase over 1907, the first for many years.

Crew Rescued as Steamer Sinks

St. John's, April 2.—The sealing steamer Iceland was crushed in the ice and went to the bottom. Sealer Florio rescued the crew and brought them here.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Motion to Quash Indictment Against Walter Is Overruled

New York, April 2.—Albert Walter pleaded not guilty to the charge of murdering 15-year-old Ruth Wheeler. A motion to quash the indictment against him was overruled by Judge Mulqueen, and he was remanded to the Tombs. The motion was based on two grounds—one that the indictment was improperly drawn, the other that a stenographer was in the room at the time that it was voted.

Before arraignment Inspector Titus set his detectives investigating a startling report to the effect that at least two young girls who called at the apartment of Walter, where Ruth Wheeler lost her life, have disappeared, leaving absolutely no trace as to their movements after going away from the building at 224 East Seventy-fifth street.

SUBWAY WORK TIED UP

Italian Laborers Dissatisfied With Working Hours and Wages

Cambridge, Mass., April 2.—All work on the new Cambridge subway is tied up hard and fast by the strike of 3000 Italian laborers, which started at Harvard square at noon, and had spread to the last gang on Main street by 6 o'clock.

Chances for a compromise that will return the men to work are slight. Harry Nawa of the H. Nawa Construction company, which employs the laborers, announced that the demands of the strikers positively will not be granted, and the Italians, although not formally organized, declare to a man that they will not work on the subway unless they are granted $2 for a nine-hour day, instead of $1.94 for a ten-hour day.

COUNTERFEITERS GET VARYING TERMS

Three Who Made Bad Dimes Are Sentenced at Boston

Boston, April 2.—Judge Lowell in the United States court sentenced Robert E. Sample to three years and six months in the federal jail at Atlanta, Frederick A. Hartung to two years and six months at the same institution, and William Sample, brother of Robert Sample, to ten months in the federal jail at Greenfield, Mass., after all three had pleaded guilty of counterfeiting 10-cent pieces of the year 1908. It is claimed that they made about 2500 of them.

"You young men have been guilty of counterfeiting money," said Lowell in passing sentence, "and I want to impress upon your minds that it is a most serious crime."

BURGLAR SUSPECTS FLEE

Investigation of Magistrate Who Reduced Their Bail Is Sought

Boston, April 2.—District Attorney Pelletier of this city has requested a special investigation into the action of Police Court Magistrate Barlow of New York, who reduced the bail from $10,000 to $5000 of three notorious burglars wanted in Boston only to have them forfeit the bond when they were called for a hearing.

The men who fled after their bail was reduced are Jacob Goldberg, his brother Joseph, and Harry Rothstein, who are accused of sawing their way through the floor of the jewelry store conducted by Samuel E. Ullian. They cut a large hole in the safe and extracted jewelry valued at $12,000.

SEVEN PERCENT RAISE

Boston and Albany Men Included in New York Central Increase

New York, April 2.—After a special meeting of the board of directors of the New York Central railroad a general order was issued increasing by 7 percent the pay of all employees on the New York Central lines, east of Buffalo, who now earn $200 a month or less. The order goes into effect immediately.

Vice President Daly said that the directors of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, the Michigan Central and the Big Four, would probably take similar action at an early date.

Fire Destroys Twenty-One Autos

Boston, April 2.—Twenty-one automobiles were destroyed, fifteen of them being new machines just delivered from the factory, and eleven others were damaged, in a $70,000 fire in the garage of the Lozier company. A new $8000 touring car exploded and started the fire, but in such a mysterious manner that no satisfactory explanation has yet been offered.

Death of a State Senator

Boston, April 2.—Following a general nervous breakdown which forced him to give up his seat in the legislature three weeks ago, State Senator Gideon D. Abbott, aged 88, died at his home in Ashmont. Death was due to heart failure and complications.

Killed by Express Train

Somerville, Mass., April 2.—John T. Hafford, aged 29, an assistant in the office of the city engineer, was struck at the Webster avenue crossing by an express train, receiving injuries that resulted in his death in a short time.

COAL FAMINE THREATENED

More Than Two-Thirds of Soft Coal Miners Idle

DEMAND FOR ANTHRACITE

It Will Be Increased If "Suspension" Should Continue For Long Period—Railroads May Aid Industrial Plants If Necessary—Situation Said to Be Hopeless in Western Pennsylvania and the Southwestern States

Chicago, April 2.—Although optimistic reports are being received from the soft coal regions throughout the middle west that the present shut-down will be of short duration, the fact remains that with the closing of the mines more than 300,000 soft coal men have gone on strike.

These represent more than two-thirds of the soft coal miners in the United States, and unless a settlement is reached speedily there is bound to be an immense shortage in the soft coal supply the coming summer.

If this forces the mills, railroads and shipping interests to switch to hard coal there is bound to be a greater demand than supply for anthracite, which, in turn, will force up the price and work severe hardship throughout the country when families seek to lay in their supply for household purposes next winter.

Neither the coal operators nor the United Mine Workers admit that the present trouble amounts to a strike. They prefer to term it a "suspension," but whatever name it goes under the production of coal has stopped in the districts affected and no one is able to say when it will be resumed.

Men familiar with coal conditions assert that the supply of coal in Chicago or in cars on the way to the city will be sufficient to meet all purposes for thirty days if fairly distributed. Coal men believe the railroads will come to the rescue of industrial plants if it should prove necessary, as the railroads have enough coal stored to last them two months.

In the eleven states affected by the suspension the shutdown is complete. In the Pittsburgh district, employing about 40,000 men and producing 60,000,000 tons, all the union men have quit.

Internal strife of the United Mine Workers may prolong the suspension beyond present indications, according to those who are familiar with conditions. The situation is said to be most hopeless in western Pennsylvania and in the southwestern states. In the southwest it is believed that the mines will remain closed for months, or as long as the miners are able to hold out, for the operators have declared that they will not pay any increase in wages.

In the Pittsburgh district the trouble is over the use of explosives. The mining laws of Pennsylvania require the use of certain kinds of explosives, which are considered least dangerous. The permissible explosive shatters the coal much more than does black powder, and as the miners are paid for only screened coal they assert that the advance of 5 cents a ton offered by the operators is more than offset by the use of the permissible explosives. The miners want an advance sufficient to give them a clear increase of 5 cents a ton. The operators assert that the competition with the non-union mines of West Virginia makes such an increase impossible.

Law Put Up to President
Washington, April 2.—By a vote of 132 to 123 the house adopted a provision amending the corporation tax law so as to provide for publicity of corporations returns upon the discretion of the president alone, instead of upon discretion of the senate or the house.

KANSANS HONOR BREWER

Business In Leavenworth Suspended During Funeral Services

Leavenworth, April 2.—Mayor Abernathy of Leavenworth issued a proclamation asking all business houses here to close for two hours this afternoon during the funeral of the late Justice David J. Brewer.

The special train bearing the body of Brewer was met at the station by the Greater Leavenworth club, a civic organization of 300 members. The club and the school children of Leavenworth marched behind the hearse to the First Congregational church, where the body laid in state until 12 o'clock, when the funeral services began.

Rev. Brewer Eddy of Boston conducted the service. The father of Rev. Mr. Eddy was associated with Justice Brewer in the founding of the Congregational church here and named his son Brewer after the jurist.

THE "SUBMERGED TENTH"

Carnegie Thinks Its Members Should Be Barred From Marriage

Pittsburg, April 2.—Andrew Carnegie, starting a four-days' visit to Pittsburg, caused a sensation in an interview in which he advocated the doctrine of allowing the "submerged tenth" to die a natural death by refusing marriage to its members.

"I do not believe much in what is called philanthropy," said the ironmaster. "The 'submerged tenth' should be dealt with by the state, and the day is coming when that class will be taken over by state officials, housed, clothed, bathed and fed, but never allowed to marry. The physician will be called in first when a couple comes to marry and the minister afterwards."

GOING TO BEVERLY INSTEAD OF ALASKA

President Taft Decides to Depart From Original Plans

Washington, April 2.—President Taft has abandoned the trip to Alaska, which he contemplated during the summer. Instead he will go to Beverly at the adjournment of congress and content himself with short trips until the fall, when he has promised to go to San Antonio, Tex., and also visit the ranch of Charles T. Taft at Gregory.

The probable late adjournment of congress, his recent extended trip through the west, and the fact that Mrs. Taft is not in the most robust health, and probably could not accompany him, have all operated to work the change in the president's plans.

HAS PLANTS IN MANY STATES

Alleged Window Glass Trust Going Before Special Grand Jury

Pittsburg, April 2.—After investigation, federal officers are ready to present to a special grand jury here next Monday evidence to show that the Imperial Window Glass company is a trust in violation of the Sherman act. The corporation is said to control thirty-three large manufacturing plants of window glass in eleven different states.

The government's investigation lasted three months. The company, which was formed under the laws of West Virginia, has factories and offices in Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, North Carolina, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

THAW'S HUSH MONEY

Lawyer Says $30,000 Was Paid to Two Hundred Girls

New York, April 2.—Hush money in the amount of $30,000 was paid by Clifford W. Hartridge to a selected portion of the feminine acquaintances of Harry K. Thaw, according to Hartridge's own testimony in his suit to recover $92,082 for his services in the first Thaw trial.

Hartridge said he met 200 girls in Mrs. Susie Merrill's apartments at 108 West Forty-fourth street. Mrs. Merrill was a witness against Thaw in his latest fight to prove his sanity.

The largest payment alleged was $5000 to a Mrs. Reed, with whom Thaw is said to have lived, and who appeared in the testimony yesterday as "Mrs. Thaw."

DEFYING THE CONSTITUTION

It is announced that the Maryland Democratic leaders have decided to push through the legislature a law that will prevent practically all negroes from registering or voting in state elections, but will not interfere with the negroes' right of suffrage in voting for congressmen and presidential electors.

They hope by that scheme to avoid a clash with the United States over infringement of the national constitution. How they will do so is a mystery, for the national constitution contains these two provisions:

Article 1, Section 2, Item 1—"The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states, and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature."

Amendment 15—"The rights of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude. The Congress shall have power to enforce the provisions of this article by appropriate legislation."

It might also be well to look at another constitutional provision.

Article 1, Section 4, Item 1—"The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the Legislature thereof, but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to places of choosing senators."

"Now, how are the Marylanders going to work to separate the provisions for electing congressmen from those for their state elections?"

And what is the Republican party going to do about it, if the Marylanders do as they threaten?

BIRDS EYE VIEWS

Anybody who has a copy of the first New Hampshire Register and doesn't know what to do with it ought to have been at the auction sale held in Boston last week of the private library of the late Joseph Pliny of Concord. A copy of this little sixteen page pamphlet, published in 1772, brought the record price of $525 being knocked down to George E. Littlefield after a keen competition with "Order," who apparently represented a collector of some means. The work entitled "A Civil, Military and Ecclesiastical Register of the Province of New Hampshire for the year of 1772, Portsmouth, New Hampshire. Printed and sold by D. R. Powie." Daniel Powie was the first printer of New Hampshire. Subsequently he took his brother Robert into partnership. An act of the Legislature, dated June 19, 1771, divided the province into five counties, and the Powies printed this, the first register. It consists of sixteen pages, 6 1/4 by 3 1/2, and gives a list of the Province Officials, the towns in each county, the county officers in three counties (the other two being joined to Rockingham), attorneys, military officers, officers of Dartmouth college, ministers and the road to Dartmouth college. Either the venture did not prove profitable, or the troubles occasioned by the Revolutionary war prevented further publication. No register has been discovered for any one of the succeeding fourteen years. Four of these are in existence, one imperfect.

As the enumerators are getting ready to take the census of New Hampshire, guesses as to the number of persons they will find, are in order. If the same rate of increase, 9.3 per cent, is maintained in this as in the last decade, New Hampshire will have almost exactly 450,000 people. Many prophets maintain the state will do better than this. At any rate a promised increase of about the lower house of the legislature will bring its number up to over 420, so that in this respect the Granite state will still lead as she has done for so many years.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES

The National Game

Throughout the land some millions of men and boys—and not a few women and girls—are in the throes of expectation. The time draws near when the knights of the diamond are to enter the lists and contend for their several pennants. They are in practice everywhere; and their idolaters, the youth of the country, are swarming the ball on a thousand fields, training themselves for succession to the high and mighty places on the national and state leagues.

There is nothing at all resembling the general and intense love of the plain American people for the game of baseball to be discovered in the present or past athletic life of any other nation. The comparatively tame cricket of England, the sedate recreation of the golf links, the more active game of la crosse or polo, even football itself—these at their best are class diversions after all. But the exciting play of baseball is continuously and irresistibly of interest. The thrill of its every move is contagious; the smallest boy and the oldest man hang alike breathless on the fate of a double play, the effort to steal a base. It lures the president and the governor from their executive chairs as readily as it filled the bleachers with thousands of fervent "fans."—Philadelphia Press.

Clean the Back Yards

At this season of the year house-holders' thoughts turn naturally to lawns and back yards, and there is a general desire to have clean and ornamental surroundings. Unfortunately in many instances the desire is not strong enough to produce results. A man who beautifies his front lawn is a public benefactor. He no doubt gets some satisfaction out of his effort and expense, but every passer enjoys the result of his effort, and the whole neighborhood is benefited. When the effort extends to the back yard the number of individuals benefited is not so great, but perhaps the enjoyment by the smaller number is more intense. No one enjoys a dirty back yard, and every person who sees one from a window forms an unfavorable opinion of the householder who permits an unsightly accumulation of misplaced matter in his environment. A clean or ornate front lawn is more common than a clean and ornate back yard, yet nothing will better repay effort than a trim back yard. It can be made to produce grass and flowers instead of tin cans, ash heaps and useless wood, and the removal of house debris is a sanitary precaution as well as an esthetic demonstration.—Jersey City Journal.

THE RED MEN

Plans for Annual Session of the Maine Great Council

Portland, April 2.—Arrangements have been perfected for the holding of the annual session of the great council of Maine, Improved Order of Red Men, to be held in the council chamber of Coggeswoc tribe in Farlington block, 429 Congress street, and a large attendance is expected.

Monday evening the degree work of the order is to be exemplified for the benefit of the members of the order who will arrive in advance for the annual session on Tuesday. No definite information has been received from the chiefs of the great council of the United States, but it is quite certain that within a few days word will be received as to who will be here to represent that body.

THE BOYS DID WELL

The boys who manage and edit the Weekly Messenger, a paper connected with the high school of Concord, did a bit of quick work on Friday evening, when they brought out the regular issue in less than one hour after the prize drill giving a full and good account of same.

A TIMELY TOPIC.

What is Responsibility

THERE is much loose and confused thinking about the nature of responsibility. Not only are there innumerable instances of persons holding positions of trust who are evading evident responsibilities, but also of those who would seek to justify themselves in such a course. The latter are like the figures in Nast's famous cartoon of the Tweed Ring, who are all standing in a circle, and each one pointing aside with his thumb to his neighbor as the responsible person. It is the old story of the other man. There are many circumstances in life where it is convenient to shift the responsibility upon some one else; and whenever one sets himself to defend a convenient course of action, he cannot always see straight and think clear. Even though he may succeed in convincing himself nevertheless if in this process there is any element of self-deception, he is perilously near the danger line.

There are no fallacies so subtle as those which insinuate themselves into our reasonings at a time when our interests are involved. Therefore when we seek to free ourselves of the burden of responsibility in any situation, we must be peculiarly on guard, that we do not allow ourselves to become ensnared in the toils of those artificial distinctions and plausible explanations, which when stripped of their verbal dress appear in their nakedness as contemptible subterfuges.

One of these convenient ideas which serve as a kind of natural anaesthetic to conscience is the belief that any responsibility which is divided is thereby lessened. The director of a corporation may content himself with the comforting thought that where many are jointly responsible, his share of the common obligation after all cannot be regarded as very serious. And it is in this idea that a very fundamental error lies. For responsibility is by its nature something intensive and not extensive. It can be divided among many, but it is not thereby diminished in degree.

THE OBSERVER.

THE MAN WHO WINS

No man who wins is the man who works—

The man who toils while the next man shirks;

The man who stands in his deep distress

With his head held high in the deadly press—

Yes, he is the man who wins.

The man who wins is the man who knows

The value of pain and the worth of woes—

Who a lesson learns from the man who fails

And a moral finds in his mournful wails;

Yes, he is the man who wins.

The man who wins is the man who stays

In the unsought paths and the rocky ways,

And perhaps, who lingers now and then,

To help some failure to rise again,

Ah, he is the man who wins!

And the man who wins is the man who hears

The curse of the envious in his ears,

But who goes his way with his head held high

And passes the wrecks of the failures by—

For he is the man who wins.

Mr. Hubb—I see by the paper that a case of bubonic plague has arrived at San Francisco.

Mrs. Hubb—Mercy, Peter! They're surely not importing it in cases.

That the style in fags, mals, etc., hangs as well as that of wearing apparel, is amply proven by the fact that the old time braided and sewed at or rug is again coming to the front to take its proper place as a cover and as an ornament.

That there are but few women now living who are experts in making the mats is proven by the prices for, and the constant demand for them by dealers in antique furniture, etc. Mrs. Addison M. Rogers of Byfield Mass., is an adept in the art of making the above named braided mats. (An article in general use in "yo old times") and she has recently sold two most excellent pieces of her handiwork real works of art, braided mats, to a man of Ipswich, for the sum of $50.

One of the above mats was of an unusually large size, in fact so large as to cover any ordinary floor except from the fact that the mats are round or oval, while floors are usually square or oblong. The craze for this class of goods still continues and well it may, for the supply is and must be limited. Mrs. Rogers has contracted to make another mat of 400 yards of braid for the same gentleman.

All up for the Eliot Centennial in August.

The stage directors of motion picture companies are the highest salaried stage directors in existence, says Glenmore Davis in Success Magazine. There are four in this country who receive salaries of from $10,000 to $15,000 a year and commissions, on every foot of exposed film turned out. These men direct the work of the actors through megaphones. They do not suggest words or lines to their people, but suggest the "business" which is just about to come, always keeping in mind that a photographic result is the only thing to be gained. The actors do not "make up" as they would to withstand the glare of the footlights, but, instead, accentuate the eyes to an alarming degree because so much depends on their expression.

White is never used in costumeing does in the men's evening dress. It does not photograph properly, therefore some more decisive color, such as gray or cream, must be worn. Every picture is made twice, to be sure of a satisfactory product, and never more than seven or eight rehearsals are held before the film is exposed. By a working agreement between the manufacturing companies, the releasing of films is limited so that only two pictures of 1000 feet each are sent out weekly by each factory. This means that thirty reels are released weekly by American producers and about the same number by European makers. The rental price of these pictures depends upon their importance and their newness. The first film of the Wright Brothers during aviation week at Rheims brought $1000 for the week. The next week one hundred duplicates were released at greatly reduced rentals, and two months later any manager could secure the film for fifty dollars.

Three thousand three hundred and seventy-four dollars is the sum asked for a violin which is constructed of exactly that number of white birchwood toothpicks. This unique musical instrument is the handiwork of Thomas Atkinson, genius and expert maker of freak articles. Mr. Atkinson lives in Greensfork, Ind., a small village, where his home is stocked with many articles made by him from time to time, says the St. Louis Post Dispatch.

The violin, which he was more than a year in completing, has been tested by musicians and pronounced high grade in every respect. Its quality of tone is seldom surpassed. Its lines are graceful and the finish perfect.

Before he started to work on this instrument he discovered that the glue which enters into the construction of violins has much to do with their sounding properties. He heard of a lot of glue found on the premises of an aged cabinet maker who had imported the stuff years ago from England. This glue was obtained and used in making this remarkable violin. It is also said that white birch, of proper grain and age, makes perfect sounding boards and unsurpassed backs for violins.

In the construction of his violin Mr. Atkinson first made a frame or mold, patterned after a world famous instrument. It was so constructed that it could be picked to pieces and re-nerved from the completed instrument through the openings. The toothpicks were all fashioned by hand to fit the particular place in which they were to lie. When the violin was completed no one could tell from the outside appearance that it was made of so many tiny bits. Many of the picks were so tiny, they could scarcely be seen with the naked eye. When tested by musicians who know, the unique instrument was declared to be extremely valuable for its qualities, apart from its peculiar construction. The instrument is to be sent to New York, where it will be given every test by skilled musicians. If the verdict be favorable Mr. Atkinson will immediately begin another, on the order of a world famous violinist.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

A little salt added to rinse water will prevent clothes from freezing upon the line.

A large apron for covering skirt to be used for bedmaking can be made from half a discarded sheet.

Another plan is to take the best parts for making sheets for cots and cribs, where there are children, reserving the very thin portions for use as dusters.

The busy housewife who dreads darning day may not know that paraffine rubbed on the heels of stockings reduces friction and saves many a jagged hole.

Immense jars with small necks such as are used for holding flowers may be cleaned by pouring hot vinegar into them. Cover the jars and allow the vinegar to cool. It removes the peculiar odor arising from decayed stems.

Taking the place of the ancient tin dishpan in the modern kitchens of many an up to date housewife is the "dish washing tub," of brown paper mache. The "tub" is made to fit into the sink of the butler's pantry or of the kitchen, for that matter, and may be purchased in the usual "family size" for 40 or 50 cents.

One of the most thoroughly practical gifts for the boy who is going away to boarding school is a dressing case provided with many of the articles essential to his comfort. The most complete of these cases are fitted with a clothes brush, hair brush and comb, tooth brush and powder, a nail brush, soap, studs and sleeve buttons, scarfpin, button hook and shoe horn. Another practical gift for the boy going away to school is a bag for folded linen.

When table linen becomes worn and shows an open mesh, it may be made more presentable if the pieces are roped while wet. Some recommend using a very little weak starch, but good linen has a certain firm texture which, when ironed as above mentioned, restores much of its original beauty and firm texture. While the pieces must be exceedingly damp, every article should be ironed until perfectly dry. Use a No. 9 iron for the purpose. It is large, retains the heat, and presses quickly.

Why, when women must live with their table china three times a day for many years, will they persist in getting novelties and stunning effects. They are bound to tire of them and the china that you don't like is never that which breaks. Study lines carefully; shape means much in a dinner service. Do not go in for irregular designs, ornate patterns and curved edges that fairly scream "nick me." The shapes used by our grandparents are hard to beat. The simplicity of their outlines and the solidity of the handles and spouts have a dignity that appeals to the artistic, and a permanence that should make good with the thrifty.

Electric Sign advertising is no longer an experiment. The most successful firms of world-wide reputation as well as the stores with whom we have done business give us facts that prove the advertising worth of Electric Signs to be far in excess of any method of advertising that has ever been devised for the amount expended.

Look for the most enterprising city of today and you will find one that uses Electric Signs on all available locations and where merchants appreciate the advertising value and use light. I am making and selling the best signs that can be produced, not the cheapest, but signs that will stand up and give service for years. Recent inventions have reduced the cost and also the cost of maintaining. Public spirit and civic pride demand well lighted business sections in our cities, why not do your part with a well lighted, artistic Electric Sign and increase your business as well.

I charge nothing for estimates or sketches and am always willing to explain details and serve your interests. Respectfully yours.

STRUCK IN HEAD WITH STONE
Small Boys Made Target of a Man on Washington Street.
Philip Soratto reported at the police station Friday evening, that while he was passing through Washington street he was struck in the head with a stone thrown by some boys, which inflicted a cut that required several stitches to close.
He stated that the boys were throwing stones and he warned them to stop or he would take them to the police station; with this they turned on him, and one stone thrown struck him in the head.
An investigation revealed the fact that the wound in the head was about an inch long.

TARIFF PEACE

How the Canadian Prime Minister Handled a Great Problem

Montreal, April 2.—All criticism of the tariff agreement with the United States has been brushed aside by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in a few words: "What are feathers," he asks, "compared with peace with our neighbors?"
This method of disposing of a question which might give rise to unpleasant controversy is characteristic of Canada's silver-tongued premier. Sir Wilfrid always takes lofty ground when called on to pronounce on warm debated points, and his words always seem to soothe angry disputants. It is probably that his settlement of the Manitoba school question in 1897 won more for the Catholics than anything that could have resulted from the passage of the opposite party's remedial bill. When the French East end and the English West end of Montreal were nearly coming to blows over sites for harbor works, and when each side looked to the premier to decide in its favor, Sir Wilfrid ended the dispute with these words:
"For me, there is neither east nor west. Let us have no sectionalism."
These few words made the matter in dispute seem a small affair, and harbor improvement came to be discussed in more harmonious fashion. The premier's power was again shown when his views as to the rights of Catholics in the new provinces of the Northwest were adopted.
Sir Wilfrid's power is all the greater that he seldom exercises it. He leaves details to his colleagues. Unlike Sir John A. Macdonald, who did not care for possible rivals in his cabinet, he gets the strongest men he can find to head the departments, and leaves them a free hand. "Finance? That is the affair of Mr. Fielding. Agriculture? Mr. Fisher is my boss," and so on. It is only where international comity is involved, or the relations between the different races and creeds in the Dominion, that Sir Wilfrid's presence at the head of affairs is plainly felt.

POLICE COURT

Albert Kingsbury was in court today charged with assault on Philip Sarroti. The defendant appeared with a bad cut on his head in which Dr. Taylor was obliged to take eight stitches. Sarroti testified that he warned some boys relative to throwing stones in the street and while doing so Kingsbury threw a missile which injured him quite badly. Kingsbury pleaded not guilty but offered nothing in his defense. The court ordered him to recognize in the sum of $100 for a hearing before the superior court this month at Exeter. The bond was furnished and he was released.

NEWMARKET

Potassett tribe of Red Men on Friday night had an interesting celebration of its fifth anniversary, with large delegations from the tribes at Portsmouth, Salmon Falls, Dover, Rochester, Milton, Exeter and South Berwick and other visiting Red Men. Great sachem John P. Young and suite were present. A parade through Gerry, Exeter, Main, Elm, Spring and South streets to the town hall followed the arrival of the special train. Along the line of march there were illuminations and various demonstrations. The town hall had the appearance of an Indian village. The warriors and chiefs' degrees were conferred upon a large class by the South Berwick and Salmon Falls degree camps. After the work there was a supper in the vestry of the Baptist church, with interesting remarks.

Fred B. Philbrick, superintendent of the Newmarket Electric Light, Power and Heat company, and Mrs. Edith M. Haines of this town were united in marriage at Lynn, Mass., March 22. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Donald H. Gerrish, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church and the couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Carlton of Lynn. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Philbrick left for a brief wedding trip to New York city. They returned this week and will reside at the home of the groom at Packer's Falls, Durham.

Mrs. Susan Beals of Medford, Mass., formerly of Newfields, observed her 51st birthday last Monday. During the day she received calls from several friends and relatives, and the mails brought over two hundred post cards from friends and neighbors.

Eugene Keniston has resigned his position as clerk at Darius Mariotti's. The needlework department of the Woman's club will meet with Miss S. Cassell Durell, Saturday afternoon, April 2.
Police Officer Frank A. Brackett is ill with pneumonia. John H. Doeg is substituting for him.

PEOPLES' OPINIONS

An Old Home Week Pointer.
Editor Herald: Under the heading "Opinions of People" your paper on Friday printed a communication signed "Old Portsmouth" and politely directed what should be done during the three day celebration in July.

I wish to say that Old Portsmouth is expected something that neither the firemen or city government can get and that is a firemen's muster unless it be made a local affair as the officers of the New England League have many times voted not to have the annual muster the tail end of any other affair in any city.

Now, what can be done?
Let the Board of Trade and Merchants' Exchange help the firemen to raise the necessary money for the play and parade of veterans in about this locality. I understand that the Board of Trade have not taken very kindly to the request of the firemen for a meeting of joint committees from both organizations after many appears have been made to get together.

This is not the spirit and demonstrates the fact that somebody needs to be pushed.

THREE NOTED THIEVES JUMPED BAIL BOND

Boston, April 2.—Inspector Michael J. Morrissey of police headquarters, who was sent to New York City by Deputy Supt. Watts last Sunday afternoon to arrange for the extradition of the three notorious safe burglars who were wanted here for breaking into the jewelry store of Samuel E. Ullman at 1113 Washington street, South End, Sunday, Feb. 27, returned on Friday disappointed. The cracksmen had jumped their bail and are now in parts unknown.

Wednesday morning, when the three men were due to face Magistrate Barlow in a New York police court, they failed to appear. It became known then that Mr. Barlow had reduced the bail, which had been originally set at $10,000 in each case, to $5000. The reduction was made at the home of the magistrate in the presence of the prisoners' attorney.

The local police intended to ascertain what Judge Barlow's motive was in reducing the bail. Morrissey talked with District Attorney Charles J. Whitman of New York City for information on the matter.

Jewelry Ullman was in New York with Morrissey. He had identified loot that was recovered when the safe burglars were arrested by central of ice detectives, Kinsler, Duggan and O'Farrell, as property that had been taken from this store. The proceeds of the break at Ullman's amounted to $12,000. The basement of the store was entered by breaking open a bulkhead in the rear. Holes were bored through the floor from the cellar, and then a large hole was ripped in the rear of the same. The burglars did not resort to use of nitroglycerin.

The men who jumped their bail are Jacob Goldberg, known as Jake Holsky; his brother Joseph, who has an alias of "Red Tracy" and Harry Rothstein, known as "Kovak der Schmidt" (Kovak the blacksmith). Both Goldbergs and Rothstein have criminal records. They have been described by the police as the most successful safe burglars in the country.

Rothstein was released only recently from the penitentiary at Trenton. The police say that he is the man who manufactured the crude burglarious implements that the band used. Jacob Goldberg has a local record. He was caught attempting to enter a silk store at 137 Kingston street, on March 3, 1908. Following his arrest he jumped his bail, but was retaken Oct. 26, 1904, and was sentenced to the house of correction for two years. Locally he was known as Harris Dubinsky. He was related to men who were mixed up in the safe robbery on Merrimac street 10 years ago. Joseph Goldberg had a Sing Sing record.

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Portsmouth

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in times of danger. Backache is kidney danger.

Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing, dangerous kidney ills.

Plenty of evidence to prove this. Albert Dunlap, 17 School street, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "I suffered from kidney disease, brought on I believe by the hardships I endured while in the army. Some years ago my complaint became much worse and there was a constant pain in the small of my back that made me miserable. It was difficult for me to get about and if I stooped or moved suddenly, sharp twinges darted through my body. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as a cure for such troubles, I decided to try them and procured a box at Philbrick's Drug Store. After using about half the contents, I could see an improvement and almost before I realized it, the pains in my back had ceased. I have had no trouble to speak of from my kidneys since. Occasionally when I have taken a slight cold or overworked, my back has become weak, but at such times a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills have always benefited me."

Many people are not aware of the recent improvements in electric lighting. The greatest of these is the tungsten lamp, an incandescent lamp with a filament of tungsten instead of carbon.

These lamps give a very powerful light, and also a light which does not have the eye-wearing glare of the older kind. The lamp lasts longer than a carbon lamp, and it does not get dimmed, like a carbon lamp, by particles of the filament flying off in sticking on the inside of the glass.

The existence of the tungsten lamp, has made electric lighting more desirable for houses than ever before. The Rockingham Light and Power Company will quote you prices for Tungsten lamps and the rest of the apparatus to go with them.

GOOD HOUSES AT MUSIC HALL

The Sherman Motion Pictures and vaudeville at Music Hall continue to

The vaudeville, headed by Dan Mulgully, the funny fellow, is well appreciated by the audience; Louis and Heslo Martelmer, in a novelty up-side-down, hold the people's attention throughout their act; they perform some very difficult juggling feats with their feet while lying on their backs.

Maurice Ritter, a singing comedian and Tesler and Gray are making a big hit; also the pictures are of the best, consisting of the clearest and best subjects in the output.

The picture program for today will contain the releases of the day, including the following:

"Lorenzo, the Wolf," dramatic.
"Athletic Sports in India."
"The Fruits of Vengeance," Comedy.

and was wanted by the police of western cities.

The Boston police were one of three claimants for the safe burglars. Detectives from New Haven and Philadelphia were also trying to extradite them when they jumped their bail.

The police officials of New York were indignant when they learned that the thieves had escaped trial. They had not been informed of the bail reduction. Their comments on Magistrate Barlow's act were caustic. The arrests were considered very important because the thieves were considered the ablest and richest "veggs" in the country.

For a month the New York detectives had searched the city for the burglars, capturing them early last Saturday morning in lower Manhattan. They did not hesitate to say that they never hope to get the three men together again. Jeweler Ullman consulted Dist. Atty. Whitman before he left New York. When Magistrate Barlow heard that Ullman was indignant and had seen Whitman, he is said to have remarked that Ullman could go straight to — with his compliments.

BOY IS TRAILED BY BLOODHOUNDS

St. Louis, April 2.—The dramatic climax of a real man-hunt, more thrilling than "Uncle Tom's Cabin," was seen here on Thursday night when John Watt, a negro boy, was trailed and cornered after a half hour's chase through the streets of St. Louis for the amusement of St. Louis society.

The chase marked the close of the Mississippi Valley Kennel Club's dog show. Watt, panting and thoroughly exhausted, crouched in a corner of the band stand, where he had climbed for safety, while the dogs, leaping at the stand, bayed notes of discovery.

The hounds, Fanny and Queen, are the same ones that captured the negro murderer of Annie Polley at Cairo, Ill., last November. The negro was burned by the mob.

At nine o'clock Watt's hat was thrown to the dogs and the negro boy started. The dogs were put on his trail at 9:10. For a distance of about 20 blocks, through alleys, down by-ways and frequently doubling on his trail, the hounds trailed the negro.

He entered the coliseum through a window in the rear of the building, and as the dogs dashed in he climbed over the railing of the band stand.

FAILED TO MAKE WAGER

Gilroy, Cal., April 2.—Miss Eleanor Sears of Boston abandoned her 108-mile walk here Friday after covering sixty miles. She took the 8 o'clock train to Burlingame.

Miss Sears started to walk 108 miles in fifty-five hours on a wager.

LIQUOR AGENCIES BAD FOR SOLDIERS

Three or four men die every pension day after visiting them, says General Smith of Togus.

"Three or four old soldiers die every pension day after visiting the liquor agencies at Chelsea and Randolph," said General Joseph S. Smith of Bangor, manager of the National Soldiers' home at Togus, Me., Thursday. General Smith is fighting to have sales to the old soldiers stopped or at least greatly modified.

"The conditions at these loosely conducted agencies are terrible," said General Smith. "We have more trouble and more deaths at the Togus home on account of the way in which these agencies, which are only a few miles from the home, are conducted, than from any other cause. The agencies openly sell to the old soldiers. Every morning from eight to thirty inmates, most of whom have visited the agencies the day previous, are before the governor's court at the home.

A MYSTERY SOLVED

Eczema Not a Blood Disease—New Remedy for Every Skin Trouble

For years the medical profession has been seeking a cure for Eczema, the most common and most stubborn of skin diseases. Some said it was a blood disease; some said it was the result of indigestion. It remained for a scientific chemist to settle beyond any question that eczema in all its forms is a skin disease and related in no way to a disordered condition of the blood. This same chemist experimented with many antiseptic, healing and soothing agents, but it was not until he formed the compound Cadum that he at last realized that he had given to the world something that would bring relief or cure to millions of sufferers. Cadum ranks today with the great discoveries of the medical world. Its action is so positive that the itching of eczema is stopped immediately. People who have itched and scratched for years find sleep and rest as soon as Cadum is used, and in ordinary cases a complete restoration of the skin to a healthy condition is reached in two or three weeks. The soothing, healing effects of Cadum are almost instantaneous. Cadum is sold at all druggists. Trial box, free, large for 5c. The small box is sufficient for trial purposes and may be used not only for eczema in all its forms, but also for hives, pimples, blotches, nettle rash, acne, herpes, scaly skin, psoriasis, ringworm, chaffings, rashes, sores, scabs, itching piles, sunry, etc.

LIGHTHOUSES INSPECTED

Good Condition from Portsmouth Harbor Easterly to Swan's Island

Portland, Me., April 2.—After making an inspection of lighthouses and light-house stations from Portsmouth, N. H., to Swan's Island, Inspector C. M. Fahs of the First Light-house District, has returned to Portland on board the light-house tender Lilac and he said that fifty-one stations had been inspected since leaving Portland on March 25.

Included in the stations visited were Seguin, Cape Elizabeth, Portland Head, Wood Island, Goat Island, Isle of Shoals, Matineus and the Cape Elizabeth Lightship No. 74. When the Lilac left Portland she went to Portsmouth, N. H., and then started towards the East and visited all the stations, including those on the Penobscot Bay. Everything at the stations was found to be in first class condition and Inspector Fahs said

CREATORE'S BAND

Made Big Hit at Springfield.

People like to hear the music of a band, not one of the sort that the sous-bret in the musical comedy tells one how much she likes to hear playing in the park, so that the tenor in the military uniform can have a good entrance, but one of the real bands that can play real music intelligently and light, topical things in a manner to make it difficult to keep one's feet still. We have not had many here of late, for the reason that bands capable of giving interesting concerts are few and far between. But last evening Creatore and his big organiation of nearly 60 musicians came back again and gave a concert in the Court Square theatre which met with great applause. The concert was a good one in every respect, much appreciated and entirely enjoyable, and while the numbers written especially for the band were naturally more pleasingly done than the others, the selections from the classics were capably made up the program, for while only eight were announced, each of the night had an encore.

Creatore, of course, led in person, he same towed-haired swaying figure of seasons gone by, but a little less of a gymnast than formerly. He swayed his body in the same old manner and teased the notes from the wind instruments with dainty, pickling fingers as of yore, but last evening he never once felt that he was going it has; you always expect it to unless the overture from "William Tell" crowds it out. A oldmark selection followed and then a Chopin waltz, which taxed the ability of orchestra and leader, but was done with success. Then the Irish number and Boccalini's "Dance of the Serpents," which brought out the drums and made the leader walk around a bit in order to get the effects he desired. Signor Russi gave one of the arias from "Martha" as a trombone solo, and this was decidedly enjoyable and was followed by a selection from "La Traviata" calling for some good solo end ensemble work.—Springfield Republican, April 1.

The band will be here on Wednesday afternoon, April 6.

WHILE RATES HAVE DECLINED, THE PRICE OF EVERYTHING THAT A RAILROAD BUYS HAS ADVANCED, SO THAT THE NET EARNINGS ARE CUT FROM BOTH ENDS. PERIODICAL ADVANCES IN WAGES HAVE BROUGHT ABOUT LARGE INCREASES IN THE COST OF LABOR. THE TOTAL COST OF LABOR FOR THE COUNTRY'S RAILROADS WAS 208 PERCENT GREATER IN 1907 THAN IN 1897, THOUGH FREIGHT TRAFFIC INCREASED ONLY 148 PERCENT AND PASSENGER TRAFFIC ONLY 126 PERCENT.

"Why Should I Buy a Farm in New Hampshire?" the new agricultural booklet of the Boston and Maine railroad, is a distinct advance in the work of eastern railroads toward industrial development. It has met with a very flattering reception and is destined to take high rank as a contributing cause to the advancement of New Hampshire agriculture.

The vacation traffic in 1910 on the railroads of northern New England is expected to beat the record.

to stand on his head and wave his feet when he wanted the man to beat the kettle-drums to death. Creatore has certainly toned down. But the music is still in him, and the ability to get it out of his band is still there. He was at his best in the numbers which demanded tenderness and sweetness of approach and his Latin nature gives him mastery over such selections and an ability to impart his feeling to his musicians. The band this year is especially well balanced, and there was no unpleasant domination of bass. The strings were missed in some of the numbers, but the wind section was capable and artistically handled. It would be hard to say which of the selections was best rendered. The most popular by far was an Irish caprice, a new medley arranged by the leader in characteristic style and introducing "Sammy Owen," and a lot of sweet old Irish melodies. The "Tannhauser" march, of course, opened the concert; it's an old trick

To secure accurate data of what might be expected by farmers on New Hampshire soil, the agricultural experiment station at Durham recently completed a very satisfactory test, with a finding as follows:

"The average annual production of oats in New Hampshire for the first eight years of the present decade has been, in round numbers, 400,000 bushels. As compared with the 4,500,000-bushel yield of Maine, our neighbor on the east, and with the 3,000,000-bushel yield of Vermont, our neighbor on the west, our own production seems rather small, as in fact it is, considering the opportunities for growing the crop which our soils and climate afford.

"With a view of determining what varieties were most suitable, what might be their comparative yields, and what would seem to be the limiting factors in production in this state, the New Hampshire agricultural experiment station began a series of tests in 1904 with the common varieties of oats offered for sale by New England seedsmen."

Tests were also made of barley, wheat and rye.

The conclusions reached were summarized as follows:

1. While New Hampshire may never be able to compete with the great northwest in the production of the staple cereal crops, the fact is nevertheless evident that very satisfactory yields of these crops can be obtained here in normal seasons. The high prices of grain feeds prevailing during the recent years are the results of changing economic conditions, and the New Hampshire farmer who adapts himself to these new conditions will find it more and more necessary to produce a larger share of the feeds at home.

2. In average seasons forty bushels of oats per acre can be grown, and in favorable seasons a yield of fifty to sixty bushels can be expected.

3. The rust of oats can be partially controlled by selecting the more resistant varieties, and by early seeding.

4. The oat smut can be entirely eradicated by treating the seed with formalin solution.

5. Barley can be grown successfully with yields ranging from eighteen to twenty-eight bushels per acre.

6. Satisfactory yields of both winter and spring wheat can be obtained; the former variety will withstand the winter weather and outyield the spring variety.

7. Spring rye can be grown with fair success.

Manufacturing plants in all sections continue to extend their works, calling for numerous small lots of structural and fabricated steel. Building contracts, too, continue to come out, making quite a large aggregate tonnage, taking the place. In large measure, of the work usually coming from railroads. The New York, New Haven and Hartford has put out an additional inquiry for truck elevation at Worcester, Mass., calling for 1000 to 1500 tons of steel. Bids have been submitted on 300 tons for the Boston and Maine.

Railroads have been built and are still extended and increased in carrying capacity to develop new country and build up industries and trade which will yield a lucrative traffic in time. For this purpose it is necessary to raise capital which will have to take a greater or less risk and will have to wait perhaps years for a return. It cannot be raised by offering stock and bonds at par. Bonds will have to bear a high rate of interest or be sold at a heavy discount, or else stock, conveying a share in ownership and control, will have to go with them at less than par and sometimes for a mere fraction of par or even as a bonus or gratuity.

While rates have declined, the price of everything that a railroad buys has advanced, so that the net earnings are cut from both ends. Periodical advances in wages have brought about large increases in the cost of labor. The total cost of labor for the country's railroads was 208 percent greater in 1907 than in 1897, though freight traffic increased only 148 percent and passenger traffic only 126 percent.

It has met with a very flattering reception and is destined to take high rank as a contributing cause to the advancement of New Hampshire agriculture.

The vacation traffic in 1910 on the railroads of northern New England is expected to beat the record.

That the growing of feed for live stock and poultry is essential to bringing about the development of farming in New England is a point generally maintained by those interested in agricultural conditions of that section. The census of 1900 credits New Hampshire with the largest yield of corn per acre in the United States and the 1909 crop report shows that Maine is well at the top of the list with a yield of about thirty-seven bushels, as against Florida, with only twelve. In the fact of such showings there seems to be no reason to doubt that the improved situation of the future

PILOTS ON STRIKE IN NEW YORK

Freights Held Up and Trouble Expected on Tug Boats and Lighters.

New York, April 2.—Two hundred and fifty-three master pilots of tugboats saw a white lantern swinging from the Battery park building shortly after midnight on Friday, and it was the signal to strike. The tugs went to their places of mooring, fires were drawn and the men walked ashore.

For fear that some of the master pilots had not seen the swinging light the tug E. J. McCormick, which had been chartered by the Master Pilots' association, steamed up North river blowing one long and one short blast at intervals. This was to notify every one that the pilots and captains on the tugs and lighters of four railroad companies and one terminal company had begun their fight for an eight-hour day.

There was no disorder, but it is feared there will be trouble today when strikebreakers are placed on the tugs and lighters and attempt to run them. The police are in readiness for any trouble and extra men have been assigned to duty with the harbor squad.

About 400 firemen, cooks and deck hands employed on the tugs that are tied up held a meeting in the rooms of the harbor boat men's rooms union at 85 Wall St. Thursday night and it continued until early Friday morning, but no decision to join the pilots in their strike was reached. There were addresses by national organizers, who advised the men to take their time about declaring a strike. The speakers predicted an early settlement of the difficulties.

The railroad companies affected by the strike are the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, the Lohigh Valley, the Baltimore & Ohio and the Central railroad of New Jersey. The other concern is the Erie and Pennsylvania terminal company of Brooklyn.

To escape a legal tangle the master pilots did not formally go on strike. Those men are licensed by the government, and they simply sent in their resignations, to take effect at midnight.

The demands of the men are for a $5 increase in their monthly wages, one day a week off, and a week's vacation, with pay, during the year. At present they work 12 hours a day, 365 days in the year.

The companies which have granted the demands are the Pennsylvania, N. Y., N. H. and Hartford, the Bush terminal company and the Brooklyn Eastern terminal. The companies against which the strike is declared were willing to grant a 12-hour workday, every alternate Sunday off and a week's vacation. The men refused to accept these terms.

The masters and pilots say that the leap will cost the railroads $150,000 a day. Several hundred captains are involved, and the strike may spread to the ferryboat captains if the trouble is not settled within a few days.

The companies announced last night that they intended to fight. They have employed an agency to supply them with men. The strikers declare, however, that their places will be difficult to fill. The captains of the Erie and Pennsylvania tugboats have accepted a 6-percent increase in wages, and their resignations have been recalled.

A committee representing the railroads affected sent a statement of the situation to Sec. Nagel of the department of commerce and labor by telegraph, calling the situation a very serious one. The dispatch said the public was bound to suffer from the strike.

There are fears that perishable freight will be tied up.

The committee of the railroad companies this afternoon issued the following statement:

"This committee has been asked about a rumor to the effect that freight was being held up outside of New York and not brought in on account of the strike on the tugboats. There has been absolutely no holdup of freight. All the freight which is not destined for New York proper, but which usually passes through here to New England points, is being diverted by way of the Poughkeepsie bridge route. By this means the movement of freight is kept up as usual."

There has not been the slightest disturbance so far in connection with the strike.

DENY DEATH OF MENELIK

Authentic Advice Said to Be in Possession of News Agency.

London, April 2.—Skepticism is still expressed here regarding the recent announcement at Addis Abeba that King Menelik had died. A dispatch from Rome today says that the Stefani Agency is in receipt of advices, purporting to be authentic from the Abyssinian capital, which not only flatly contradicts the announcement, but insist in the face of assurance to the contrary that there has been no change in the monarch's condition.

Berlin, April 2.—A special to the Tagblatt from Addis Abeba would seem to indicate that King Menelik was still alive Thursday, when the dispatch says, the state council refused the demand of the Emperor that the people should swear to give protection to her life and property in the event of the monarch's death.

$2,000,000 MORE ASKED FOR THE NAVY

Additional Estimate on Account of New Construction Submitted to House.

An additional estimate of $2,000,000 on account of the increase in the navy was submitted to the House on Thursday. It embraces $1,000,000 on account of hulls and outfits and steam machinery of two buildings in the navy department's proposed building program, the amount required for the first year, and $1,000,000 on account of submarine torpedo boats, the amount required for the first year for five boats.

SPERRY SENT TO HIS HOME

Rear Admiral Charles S. Sperry, who was commander-in-chief during the latter part of the trip of the Atlantic fleet around the world, has been detached from the Naval War college at Newport and ordered to repair to his home. Rear Admiral Sperry has been on duty at the college ever since his detachment from the big fleet, and though retired some time ago he has been on active duty still. Rear Admiral and Mrs. Sperry will make their home in Newport.

"INDIGNATION DAY"

Pittsburg, April 2.—What is known to the public at large as "All Pools' day" is to Pittsburg "Indignation day," and to the 40,000 striking miners in this district as "8-hour day." The last name is in recognition of the services of John Mitchell, ex-president of the united mine workers, in winning his fight 11 years ago for an eight-hour work day.

The miners have always observed this day as a holiday, and sometimes it has taken two or three days thereafter to get back to work. Whether this year's breach in negotiations for a new wage scale and working agreement means a longer suspension is a matter which troubled them little in their merrymaking yesterday.

It is "indignation day," as officially set by a civic committee for public condemnation of the graft disclosures and a monster mass meeting for this purpose was held last night in Exposition hall. It is coincident with the expectation that today, or tomorrow at the latest, the grand jury will come out with the much-awaited names of the men higher up in the graft scandals.

ACCIDENT DUE TO BROKEN
FIRING PIN

Washington, April 2.—The court of inquiry has about completed its investigation of the accident on board the United States cruiser Charleston, when eight men were killed and seven others injured by the explosion of a three-inch gun. The findings will be forwarded here. It is generally believed that the explosion was due to a broken firing pin, which struck the primer as the breechlock was swung to close the breech on the cartridge, and exploded the shell before the block was locked in place.

ONLY ONE BATTLESHIP

Advocated by Democrats of House Naval Committee

Washington, April 1.—The naval appropriation bill, pending in the House, on Thursday offered an opportunity to members to discuss various subjects. Mr. Sherley of Kentucky explained at considerable length his resolution to permit a majority of the House to bring before it at any time a bill which might be pending in a committee.

Mr. Padgett of Tennessee and Mr. Gregg of Texas, minority members of the House naval committee, each delivered a speech in favor of a one-battleship policy.

DECIDED SEAT QUESTION

Judge Holds Place in Car Belongs to Man Who Gets It First.

St. Louis, April 2.—"Title to a seat in a street car rests in the man who gets it first in preference to the man who sees it first," declared Judge Klüber here yesterday, his decision settling a long disputed point in the conduct of strangers.

William Glover, who got a seat first and forgot to keep it from Oscar Wagner, who saw it first, was thereupon discharged.

TO BE ENSIGNS ON GRADUATION

A bill to give naval graduates at Annapolis the rank, commission and pay of ensigns immediately upon their graduation has been reported favorably from the House Committee on Naval Affairs. At present the naval cadets are required to spend two years at sea before receiving their commissions.

The Scrap Book

Collecting a Nickel.
The conductor looked worried and was in an ugly mood. He had been counting his cash, and it was evidently short, as his scowl deepened as he dropped it back in his pocket and glared at the indicator.

Just then two workmen, one Italian and the other an Irishman, boarded the car and found seats. The conductor called for the fare, and each man handed him a dime. He dropped them in his pocket, rung up without giving any change.

"I want a nickel," complained the Neapolitan.

"You've got your nickel. No more nickel for you. See?" and the conductor moved to the rear platform.

The Italian sat meekly in silence, but the Irishman employed different tactics. He went to the doorway.

"Gimme a nickel change," said he to the conductor.

"You've got all the change you're going to get," was the report.

"See here," exclaimed the Irishman, "you may play that change on a hard organ, but you can't play it on a harp. Gimme nickel change." And he got it.

Let Us Smile.
The thing that goes the farthest toward making life worth while, that costs the least and does the most, is just a pleasant smile.

The smile that bubbles from a heart that loves its fellow men drives away the cloud of gloom and casts the sun again.

It's full of words and goodness, too, with many kindnesses blended in it. It's worth a million dollars and costs a cent.

The Fool Man.
A man who prided himself on his keen sense of humor had been invited to an evening party. He wanted to go, but his wife declared that she had no gown suitable for the occasion and asked him to send regrets to their hostess. The man went down to his office and penned this facetious note of declination:

"We regret that your invitation must be declined. All the conventional reasons, the real reason is that half the family has nothing to wear. My wife's latest dress is over three weeks old, and her hat is twelve hours out of date. You will appreciate the hopelessness of the occasion and excuse us."

He thought this pretty good, and he determined to write a note to his wife also, explaining that he would not be at home for an early dinner; she had asked him. He said in his note: "I have turned down your invitation because I am going out to another evening party where the guests are not expected to wear anything of importance. Sorry I won't be there to kiss you good night."

And then the fool man carelessly sent his wife's note to the hostess and the hostess's note to his wife.

Struck a Skeptic.
A food faddist was lecturing to a large audience on the marvelous results to be obtained from chewing soup or eating nut butter or something of that kind. He was lean and small, and not a very imposing person physically; but, swelling on his chest, he slapped it thrice with the palm and cried:

"Fellows, two years ago I was a walking skeleton, a haggard, miserable wreck. Now, what do you suppose brought about this great change in me?"

He paused to let his words sink in, and a voice asked:

"What change?"

"Wanted Plenty of Room."

A solemn looking Irishman entered a business house, and, walking up to one of the men employed on the lower floor, asked:

"Is there any chance for a man to get a job at work here?"

"I don't know," said the man.

"You'll have to see Mr. Hobart."

"An' where is he?"

"Up on the second floor," was the answer.

"Shall I walk up and talk to him?"

"No need of that. Just whistle in that tube, and he'll speak to you," pointing to a speaking tube.

The Irishman walked over to the tube and blew a mighty blast in it, hearing the whistle, Mr. Hobart came to the tube and inquired:

"What's wanted down there?"

"Tis Ol' Paddy Flynn, Ar ye th' boss?"

"I am," said Mr. Hobart.

"Well, then," yelled Flynn, "blow ye head out at ye second story, blow ye whole Ol' shan out on th' sidewalk. Ol' want to talk t' ye!"—Lippincott's.

New Military Mast for the Maine

The Need Here for a Tugboat

More About the Marietta Court Martial

Discharged from Hospital

D. H. Rizer, a former member of the crew of the U. S. S. Paducah, who was left at the hospital for treatment here when the boat went to Southern waters last year, was discharged on Friday and left for his home in Newport, R. I. His wife and two children joined him in this city.

Rizer has in his possession a letter of congratulation from former Secretary of the Navy Thomas H. Newberry. The letter deals with the happenings of March 5, 1909, when Rizer was in Denver, an attaché of the recruiting station. Rizer discovered a hotel fire early in the morning, and at the risk of his life drove out the guests. When their safety was assured he returned and fought the fire until overcome by smoke.

Says the Report of the Board Did It

The Army and Navy Journal states the charges against Commander Frank K. Hill, of the U. S. S. Marietta are based on the report of the Board of Inspection which looked over the vessel at Hampton Roads which led to the navy department ordering a court martial to hear Commander Hill. The board who made the inspection and survey were Capt. Chauncey Thomas, president; Comdr. Thomas Snowden, Comdr. William S. Smith, Naval Constr. Robert Stocker, Major David D. Porter, U. S. M. C., Assistant Adjutant and Inspector, and Comdr. Charles F. Hughes, recorder. Commander Hill had asked for extensive repairs to be made on the Marietta, and this was indirectly the cause of the inspection which was made, which resulted in the report, it is said, that he had a dirty ship. The court martial will also try Lieut. Paul E. Dampman, engineer officer on the Marietta. Commander Hill is one of the best known officers in the service.

Build One Here

It is hard to understand why the navy department is so unconcerned in the matter of a tugboat for this station. It seems as if one of the four tugs at Norfolk could be spared and be sent here or that the department would order the construction of a fair sized boat at this yard. With three battleships assigned here it's certainly expensive and inconvenient to keep looking for outside help when help is needed.

To Have the Fire Control Mast.

The navy department which has been deliberating as to whether or not the U. S. S. Maine would be fitted up with a fire control mast, has directed that the same be installed and today the work of tearing out the old mast began. The fact that the department has held up this work has put the plans back considerable at this yard, besides causing a discharge among the men. It is likely that all work now to be carried out on the battleship will go on with no further interference.

Ships to Go in Commission

The U. S. S. Iowa has been ordered placed in commission at the navy yard, Norfolk, Va., May 2, 1910. The Massachusetts has been ordered placed in commission at the navy yard, New York, N. Y., May 2, 1910, and the Indiana has been ordered in full commission at the navy yard, Philadelphia, Pa., May 10, 1910.

Working Hard for the Bridge

Much work is being carried out in the effort to obtain the necessary money, $125,000, for the bridge to Kittery from the yard and those who have the matter in charge are letting no delay come to the surface. The plan is that the bridge shall be built from a location between the two present bridges running to the yard from that town.

TALKED TO RAILROAD MEN

Visit from the General Organizer of Employees and Investors

Thomas J. Farby of Boston, general organizer of the American Employees and Investors association, addressed the members of Portsmouth branch, No. 9, on Friday in the conductors' room, where a large number of the local Boston and Maine men were present to listen to the first speaker to give them a talk since the association was formed.

His address was on the aims of the organization, the formation of a state branch, and railroad legislation, which was decidedly instructive throughout.

President D. B. Cutler and former alderman George B. Wallace were among the other speakers of the evening, both addressing the assembly for the general good of the men who make up its membership.

CIRCUS COMING

Forepaugh and Sells Brothers to be Here on July 1

Come boys, put away your nephews for the big show which will be here on July 1. This big performance, Forepaugh and Sells Brothers, one of the largest and best, will be with us on that date, coming to this city from Newburyport. The show has for years been moved in three trainloads the railroad but this year the outfit will come here in two trains of forty-five cars each.

It has been some time since any of the big tents were pitched in this city and last year none of the traveling performances came to Portsmouth.

It is not at present known where the show will appear but it is thought it will be given at Christian Shore as that section of the city affords the most available place for the same.

Agents along the line of the Boston and Maine and other railroads have been notified of the itinerary, and directions relative to the handling of the cars conveying the show in special trains.
